To Whom It May Concern,

On behalf of Techstars, I would like to extend our heartfelt thanks to HuzaX for the invaluable support provided by Yan Kwizera since April 2023. Yan has been an exceptional mentor to our startups.

Techstars, founded in 2006, is the world's most active pre-seed investor, having invested in more than 3,800 companies. We are on a mission to invest in an unprecedented number of startups per year to enable more capital to flow to more entrepreneurs around the world, delivering exceptional returns to our investors. We achieve this by operating accelerator programs and venture capital funds, and by connecting startups, investors, corporations, and cities to help build thriving startup communities.

Yan's expertise in business development and fundraising readiness has been a significant asset to our program. His focused efforts on sustainability and digital enabling solutions have not only guided our startups towards success but have also reinforced our commitment to fostering innovative solutions for global challenges.

The dedication and professionalism that Yan brings to his mentorship role have had a profound impact on the startups he has worked with. His strategic insights and hands-on approach have empowered these early-stage companies to achieve their goals and secure necessary funding.

We are deeply grateful to HuzaX for allowing Yan to collaborate with Techstars. His contributions have been instrumental in enhancing the quality and effectiveness of our accelerator programs. We highly recommend HuzaX as a partner for any organization seeking expertise in business development and a commitment to sustainability and innovation.

Thank you once again for your continued support.

Sincerely,

Neal Sales-Griffin

Managing Director at Techstars San Francisco, Oakland, and Chicago
